Notes

- Review dropped-shoulder construction on page 94 and cardigans worked in one piece on page 148.
- The body is worked in one piece from the cast-on edge to the armholes, then divided for working the fronts and back separately to the shoulders. The upper body is worked on smaller needles than the lower body.
- Knit the first and last stitch of every row for a garter-stitch selvedge unless otherwise indicated.
- Use the sloped method of binding off (see page 77) to shape the neckline and avoid "stair steps" along the bind-off edge.
